“A Concept of ‘Church’ Big Enough for Eastertide”

What is the Church? Is it just our local congregation, or is it something much bigger? For many people their concept of “church” is no bigger than the local congregation and their vision of the church’s mission stops at the church door. Christ’s Church, however, is much bigger than that.

Our connection to Christians everywhere is made real through our ecumenical involvements. In addition, another manifestation of our connection with Christians around the globe is the relationship we have with other United Methodists around the world. Approximately 40% of the members of our United Methodist Church live outside the United States. (7.4 million United Methodists live in the United States; 5.1 million United Methodists live outside the United States.)

Unfortunately, too many people have a “small” understanding of church. In their minds the church is only a local congregation, or worse, they believe the notion that the church is just for those who are already inside the membership of a local congregation.

A healthier way to understand a local congregation is to see it as a mission station in Christ’s larger fellowship. And if we see ourselves as a mission station, we would never be content until all have been invited to share in our fellowship.

The season of “Eastertide” (Easter and the six Sundays which follow) is a perfect time and opportunity to invite someone else to be a part of the church fellowship.

But not just any invitation will do. To be effective our invitations need to be personal and specific. We often say something like, “Why don’t you visit our church sometime?” A very different, and much more effective invitation would be something like, “Why don’t you come with me to worship this Sunday?”

Christ’s arms are big enough to include all in his embrace. How big is your concept of church?

David Wilcox, Senior Pastor

“PAUMCS is our seminary”

Once again I would like to thank you – the congregation and staff - for your support of the office staff. PAUMCS stands for Professional Association of United Methodist Church Secretaries. It provides continuing education at the district, state and national level and is provided for in The Discipline under the wing of GCFA, General Council of Finance and Administration. Linda and I just returned from a long weekend in Asheville, North Carolina, where we were able to renew friendships, network with those who do what we do, meet some incredible new friends, listen to awesome leaders and also have some time to relax! Our theme was “Reaching the Peak of our Profession” and topics this year were, “Unwanted Baggage,” “Self Care / Soul Care,” “Finding Balance and Order in Chaos,” “The Advantage—Creating Your Personal ‘Playbook’,” “Navigating the Storms of Our Relationship and Ministries” and “Moving from Good Things to God-Things.”

Tina, Kathy, Linda and I will be going to Newark First UMC for the spring Ohio PAUMCS gathering on April 30. These gatherings help us to serve you better as we come home refreshed and renewed with new ideas.

Small Things With Great Love:
Adventures in Loving Your

Neighbor by Margot Starbuck. This book will open your eyes to the people around you and the huge impact you can have on them through small acts of love. There are over 300 examples of people across genders, ages, incomes, and living environments who kept their eyes open and found opportunities to small things; someone who found a way to walk in the way of Jesus and serve their fellow man. This is a great book for learning to see where opportunities that "have your name on them" may exist. Margot's writing style and sense of humor make this an enjoyable and easy read. Includes a study guide, list of resources and a six-week adventure challenge.

Warmer weather, spring flowers and the UMW Rummage Sale--all sure signs of spring! Mark your calendars: Friday, May 2, 9-5 and Saturday, May 3, 9-12. There is still time to take your items for sale to Wesley Hall.

Rummage Sale

Time to clean out those closets and donate clean, used clothing, shoes, housewares, home decor items, clean linens, books, games, toys, puzzles, electronics, lawn and garden items, sporting goods, sewing and craft materials, pet items, and small hardware. Include clothing, seasonal and holiday items for spring and summer only. Please place in bags or boxes by category. Thank you!

United Methodist Women

Hopefully Spring has decided to make its appearance by now. Boy did it take a long time!

The book this month is from the Social Action category of the reading program. The title is "Dear White America: A Letter to a New Minority," by Tim Wise. There are times when it is difficult to talk about the sometimes explosive topic of race, as this volume does. Author Tim Wise acknowledges this and hopes that his words may allow you to discuss subjects on race more confidently during those difficult times. This amazing "letter" includes history, facts and insight into the disturbing phenomenon of institutional racism. Bea Smith, Reading Resource Secretary of Wooster UMW.

“The Green Thing”

Forget Your Own Health: Stop Drinking Diet Soda for the Good of the Great Lakes

As if the invasive zebra mussels and Asian carp threatening the ecology of the Great Lakes weren't enough, humans are invading the waters of Superior, Erie, Huron, Michigan, and Ontario with our own detritus. There are the rafts of micobeads that now float across the surface of the world's largest group of freshwater lakes, pollution courtesy of your exfoliating facial cleaners and body washes. And thanks to that diet soda habit you just can't seem to kick, the Great Lakes are becomingly subtly sweet—and calorie-free!—because of artificial sweeteners that are evading wastewater treatment facilities and flowing into the watershed.

We do not inherit the Earth from our ancestors, we borrow it from our children. ~Native American Proverb

In a study published earlier this month by the journal PLOS ONE, researchers from Environment Canada and University of Waterloo tested the water from the Grand River at 23 sites between its headwaters and where it dumps into Lake Erie.

The results suggest the artificial sweetener acesulfame is the best at evading wastewater treatment, and it appears in far higher concentrations than the likes of saccharin or sucralose at the various test sites. At one testing location toward the Erie end of the Grand River, the researchers found the “equivalent amount of acesulfame in 81,850 to 188,650 355mL-cans of soda pop flowing past site 20 each day or 0.12 to 0.28 cans of soda pop per person.”

Forty million people get their drinking water from the Great Lakes, and just artificial sweeteners are sneaking past wastewater treatment, some, like acesulfame, can even curtail purification processes too. So if your childhood dream was for the drinking fountains to flow with diet cola, this is great news. If you would prefer your water sans any sweetener, artificial or otherwise, the findings of this study are more troubling.
